

Honorata Skarbek Honey, Sabotage

Throwing granates at your lovers, yeah, you tear them to pieces
Bullets shoot from your big mouth, and you don't need a reason
The hero wins every time, but the war ain't won
The battles go over and over and over
You started every one, every two, every three
On your way to infinity

You ain't gonna sabotage my world no more
You ain't gonna place the blame on my DNA
You gotta sign the truce with god
Throw down your arms
You ain't gonna sabotage my world, my world, my world no more

Air raids going round in your head, see them running for cover
Alies retreat their dying and you call me a murder
The hero wins every time, but the war ain't won
The battles go over and over and over
You started every one, every two, every three
On your way to infinity

You ain't gonna sabotage my world no more
You ain't gonna place the blame on my DNA
You gotta sign the truce with god
Throw down your arms
You ain't gonna sabotage my world, my world, my world no more

No more fighting
No more striking
No more hurting
No more hating
No more madness
No more sandness
No more hurting,
No more hating

You ain't gonna sabotage my world no more
You ain't gonna place the blame on my DNA
You gotta sign the truce with god
Throw down your arms
You ain't gonna sabotage my world, my world, my world no more

No more fighting
No more striking
No more hurting
No more hating
No more madness
No more sandness
No more hurting,
No more hating
