Hoobastank, Open Your Eyes

You want what you deserve but it's right in front of you You want something better than any other You don't even bother to figure what it is that you think you deserve You'll find it all one day but not this way. Open your eyes, your heart will follow Open your eyes, see what you've been missing Open your eyes, and find the answer I can't take anymore, have you ever asked yourself, what am I looking for? You're indesisive You are just another caught up in all of this plastic glamerous world You'll never see who you could be Open your eyes, you're heart will follow Open your eyes, see what you've been missing Open your eyes, and find the answer Your world is waiting, anticipating, your time is fading, if you never open your eyes If only you could see, that there is something you can do, to make this better Open your eyes, your heart will follow Open your eyes, see what you've been missing Open your eyes, and find the answer You're world is waiting, anticipating, but your time is fading, if you never open your eyes
