

Hopesfall, Dead In Magazines

"someone called your shot just from the other side the self-made rival you are i thought i caught you breathing it was just the sound of me laughing modern day eyes locked arm in arm with cosmo queens turning heads then their backs trying to find the polarized version of their obsession this is how to escape the horizon, curled up and frozen still it's the tilt of the hourglass and we're slowly thinking, waiting, and waking"
