

Hors D' Oevres, When The World Got In The Way

So it seems that once again
I'll remain that real sweet guy
Because she needs that little more

So it seems that once again
Hollow words will comfort me
And drag me through the day

At the background
That's where I belong
Just a guest appearance to every one
I'm here to fill up the scene

Nevermind me

You assured me that in time
Things would work out
I'd be fine
I can't say
That I don't feel the same

Still got your name carved in my heart
