

Hot Apple Pie, Why Can't I Get To You

There's a train leavin' somewhere from a station.
There's a plane due almost anywhere, every hour on the hour.
I can walk down any street, put miles under my feet,
Movin' on nothin' but willpower.

So tell me why can't I get to you?
How can I make you feel everything that I do?
If faith can move mountains, and love will see you through,
Then tell me why can't I get to you?

I can't live in the silence that's come between us.
Wonderin' where you are, even when you're holdin' me.
So tonight, don't turn away... say what you need to say.
We owe this love the honesty.

Tell me why can't I get to you?
How can I make you feel everything that I do?
If faith can move mountains, and love will see you through,
Then tell me why can't I get to you?

Maybe there's a river I haven't crossed.
Maybe there's a bridge you'd need to burn.
I'm gonna keep searchin' even though we're lost,
An' keep on believin' there's another corner that we might turn.

Tell me why can't I get to you?
How can I make you feel everything that I do?
If faith can move mountains, and love will see you through,
Then tell me why can't I,
No matter how I try...
Why can't I get to you?
