

Hot Hot Heat, No Jokes - Fact

Watch your children around the abandoned well
Dont ask me to tell if they slipped and fell
Im just a salesman with my suitcase in hand
And the perfect plan that should pull me out

Another day, another night, another year
Another smile, another lie, another tear
This better not be all I got
I never thought Id end up here

Jingle jangle thats the sound of coins
Spent on useless toys made for useless boys
Im just a salesman with my suitcase in hand
Theres a piece of land that I got my eye on

Another day, another night, another year
Another smile, another lie, another tear
This better not be all I got
I never thought Id end up here

Friday night Ill raise my glass and say
"Tomorrow things will change! I cant afford to wait."
But by Monday morning my alarm clock knows
How this story goes and the endings the same as the start

Another day, another night, another year
Another smile, another lie, another tear
This better not be all I got
I never thought Id end up here

Another day, another night, another year
Another smile, another lie, another tear
This better not be all I got
I never thought Id end up here

Watch your children around the abandoned well
Dont ask me to tell if they slipped and fell
Im just a salesman with my suitcase in hand
And the perfect plan that Im working on
