

Hot Hot Heat, So So Cold

Into the rain we'll run out under the storm with lightning on its way into a tree we'll carve our names and there we'll stay forever this town was meant for leaving so go while they were sleeping watching waiting thinking but never said

All our lives
the fire's burning but it's so so so so cold in here all this time
so stay up
we'll play our song
so stay up

These city walls they cage us into the street with midnight on its way got nothing more than these empty bottles where we'd hide forever restless, reckless slow dance with reckless, restless romance waiting, holding, thinking but never knowing

All our lives
all this time
so stay up
we'll play our song
so stay up
we'll play our song

All our lives
the fire's burning but it's so so so so so cold in here
so stay up
we'll play our song
so stay up
and know that all our lives the fire's burning but it's so so cold
nothing's burning in here it's so so so so cold
