

House Of Fools, What Are We Supposed To Do

[Verse 1:]

In a world that seems so fake, artificial everything;
oh I just want be real,
I gotta say how I feel, can't wait.

Always looking at myself,
never liking what I see;
I never gave me the chance,
never knew what I really could be.

[Chorus 1:]

(Better than living a lie),
(it's better than wearing a disguise);
take a chance on you,
(You just be you),
(take a chance on you).

[Verse 2:]

I can't say the world has changed, they still judge by what they see.
Though I can't help what they say,
I know who's inside of me.

It's okay to take that chance,
try your possibilities (possibilities);
no one can do what you do, or stop all the things you can be (they can't even stop what you're gonna be).

[Chorus 2:]

(Better than living a lie) living a lie,
(it's better than wearing a disguise);
take a chance on you,
(You just be you),
(take a chance on you, on you).

[Bridge:]

The grass is always green on the other side, it's when you're looking through your insecure eyes.
And it's better than living a lie (living a lie),
so much better than wearing a disguise,
(take a chance on you) You just be you,
(You just be you, You just be you).

[Ending:]

It's better (better) than living a lie (living a lie),
so much better than wearing a disguise;
(take a chance on you),
(take a chance on you),
(take a chance on you),
You just be you.
