

Houston Calls, Stay With Me Tonight

My mind is racing at a mile a minute.
Its losing to the lonely hearts
of a thousand wishful lovers running in my shoes.
Theyre running circles around my morals.
Anytime, I would be there for you.
Open your eyes, Im here and waiting for you.

Biting my tongue til the perfect moment.
A bittersweet chase thats slowing me down.
Look at me tonight its all I need now.

Youve painted pictures of some beautiful still life,
But this ones better, its so much better than
The ones I dream of as I cross the Atlantic a jaded lover and a hopeless romantic.
Anytime, I would be there for you.
Open your eyes, Im here and waiting for you.

Biting my tongue til the perfect moment.
A bittersweet chase thats slowing me down.
Look at me tonight its all I need now.

Until youre sure you mean it just wait to say it.
Dont you remember thats advice you gave me?
Stay with me tonight.

Youre safe here.
I know you cant believe, dear, that I would say this
But once-upon-a-times can happen and all you have to do is grab them.
Stay near. I hate to make you wait, dear. Id never want to.
But whats a boy supposed to do when happy-ever-afters might come true?

Biting my tongue til the perfect moment.
A bittersweet chase thats slowing me down.
Look at me tonight its all I need now.

Until youre sure you mean it just wait to say it.
Dont you remember thats advice you gave me?
Stay with me tonight
