

Howard Jones, Fight On

Got to get to know your mind
Let it be your friend
Don't be scared of what you'll find
Let's not pretend

Say it isn't true
You gave up on your dream
Blinded by the spotlight
Falling through the screen

You got to be strong
You go to fight on
For everyone

Hold a mirror to your life
Polish night and day
You can find the clear blue sky
When the tarnish scrapes away

Hold on a minute
Let me be your friend
Strict as you want it
Or gently take the bends

You got to be strong
You go to fight on
For everyone

There are times when the snowstorm hits
And everything becomes a blur of cold and white
Then you know that you must fight
And believe that mountains shift
And when the snowstorm lifts
You'll see the sun and the moon so clear
