

Howie Day, Lick My Lips

lick my lips i'm fading
lick my lips i'm fading
lick my lips i'm fading slowly fading into you and keep on stop your waiting keep on stop your waiting don't you keep on waiting cause i'm walking away from you well, we could all change but i know that you will never change you shut up the night and when the light hits you talk to me

i was never so amazed
it was such a mutual craze between you and me and me and you

and keep on stop your waiting keep on stop your waiting

you could never walk away from me dance around but never be you know you are the one who knows that laugh out loud so here it goes
it was such a mutual craze between you and me and me and you

keep on stop your waiting don't you keep on waiting cause i'm walking away from you
