

Howie Day, Morning After

calcutta streams from porchlights where we opened up our party gifts and you fell down the stairs on purpose and you drive to europe in the rain your hair's done up but no one's gonna see it well maybe you should drive me home, home what could be so wonderful about this what could be so wonderful half light wakes you up the morning after fall down with me and roll around now

The girl is cold and so is he but hes still warm she's way too kind when you walked in the morning after looking good you know it yeah, yeah, yeah

find out about the music is the CD jammed upside down i'd really like to feel you with dinner and we're sitting on a city bench together in the tourist town if the fashion ad were here you'd be in it, in it

oohahh, i'm closing my eyes and i'm spinning, spinning away away well i don't know if i should stay but what do i do when you say it's ok, its ok, its ok

what could be so wonderful about this
fall down with me and roll around

fall down with me and roll around yeah yeah yeah yeah... fall down with me and roll around, round . . .
