

Hozier, Better Love

I was kneeling in shaking thrill
I chase the memory of it still, of every chill
Chided by that silence in a hush sublime
Blind to the purpose of a brut divine
But you and I...
Staring in the blackness at some distant star
The thrill of knowing how alone we are Unknown we are to the Wild,
And to the both of us
I confessed that I was dreamier

Some better love, but there's no better love
Beckons above me and there's no better love
Whatever above me and there's no better love
Darling, feel better love
Feel better love

And I've never loved darker blue
Than the darkness I have known in you, own from you
You, whose heart would sing of anarchy
You, 11 meanings guarantee, so beautifully
When our truth is blurred in this city
By those who figured justice in fond memory, witness me
Like fire weeping from a cedar tree
Knowing that my love would burn with me
We will live eternally

Coz there's no better love
Beckons above me and there's no better love
Whatever above me and there's no better love
Darling, feel better love
Feel better love
