

Human Remain, Because

(verse 1)

Working to the top it can kill you still
It can send you driving, deep into the cold hard ground Spinning, spinning and running all around like you just can't stop
Never stop to smell the roses, you're gonna' roll the rock
Excitement down the Boulevard tonight
Girls & Guys they do it up all night
Relieving that pressure, riding down that road
They flying wild and searching for that pot of gold

(chorus)

Because I'll see you there, I'll see you there, tonight
Because I'll see you there, I'll see you there, each and every night

(verse 2)

I walk into a bar and I see you there, you're talking to some other guy
Out of the clear blue sky, your eyes they turn way
And then I see your smile It makes me feel warm inside
Lovers come and lovers they always go, That's what they tell me so
And one can never escape the other, but you can give up looking for some perfect lover

(chorus)
