Hurt, Assurance

I've seen the way you look at me I've seen you waiting patiently I'm fine... well, I lied

If what we are is feeling low I'd fear this if I had a soul But you're still mine

I was afraid of being chained I thought a woman who could mend and bend Would learn my deepest depths and thoughts

And it's just one more round, one more One more round and I'm done

So you need assurance that everything's gonna be fine 'Cause you're just a woman who's everything good in my life And though we've been over, weeping over Our last goodbyes Well, I learned to live with these fatal gifts And still you're mine So I...

And so I wrote you this song
But you won't sing along to me
To sing la dan da do da la dai-ee-i-ee-ay
La dan da do da la dai-ee-i-ee-ay-ee-ay-ee

The memories that used to be Are carved into a sweet gum tree Outside my place Where I touched your face And it was...

One more round, one more One more round, than I'd loved for.

Still you need assurance that everything's gonna be fine You're just the woman who's everything good in my life And though we've been over, weeping over Our last goodbyes well I've learned to live with these fatal gifts And still your mine So I...

So I wrote you this song You're not here to sing along to me To sing la dan da do da la dai-ee-i-ee-ay La dan da do da la dai-ee-i-ee-ay-ee-ay-ay
