

Hypocrisy, When The Candle Fades

The sky turns black
We are all a bunch of ugly ghosts
Dreams are reality just the same
Just another crucifixion
one more cross nailed to the ground
The beginning of the end has just begun
Light's getting dark
The real pain's yet to come
Call out, the magic words
Forever chained to the flame
Another dream turned to ashes
Blessed by the dark
When the candle fades
The pain comes to an end
When the sun turns black
Release your blood, and fade away.
Blood'd never lie
You'll take your life and dwell in emptiness, running away from the pain.
Bodies with empty souls cry to be free
But this is just the beginning of the end
The disease is catching up with you
Tortured by the past once again
The time stops, but nothing's forever
What comes after death,
It never ends