Ian Gillan Band, Running white face, city boy

I was running through an empty streetTurn the corner I could feel the heatI wore the look of a white