

IdleMiND, Itch

Everything else changes between night and day
But all this pain won't seem to go away
Feel all that is real, but I deny reality
Can't hold your hand, can't understand
Why this is happening to me

I need to breathe

Help me, 'cause I'm seriously addicted to you
There won't be, anything left of me when we're through
Time, is a verse without a rhyme, without mood
Different, yet so utterly attractive, like you

Nobody else changes between night and day
Here for me now, tomorrow you'll walk away
These words unlock my cage, a simple rage against
The system of my life, like a knife
You carve my heart in two, and I'm still loving you

I need to breathe

Help me, 'cause I'm seriously addicted to you
There won't be, anything left of me when we're through
Time, is a verse without a rhyme, without mood
Different, yet so utterly attractive, like you

Time is nothing, time won't heal
Shredding everything I feel
I've forgotten all that's real
Please remind me why I'm here

Why... Cry...?

Everything you wanted me to be and all you saw in me
Meant everything to you, now means nothing to me

I need to breathe

Help me, 'cause I'm seriously addicted to you
There won't be, anything left of me when we're through
Time, is a verse without a rhyme, without mood
Different, yet so utterly attractive, like you
