

Ilse DeLange, What Does Your Heart Say Now

Yesterday we kept a safer distance
We walked a borderline that seemed so clear
We crossed that line last night
It vanished with the morning light
Now I wanna know, where do we go from here

chorus:

What does your heart say now
Now that weve touched, now that weve kissed
What does your heart say now
Now that its come this
Is it the same, or has something changed
Now that weve let our guard down
I just want to know, what does your heart say now
Last night we said things one soul to another
In ways that spoken words could not express
No room was left for doubt
But I dont know where I stand now
Dont leave me in the dark
Dont make me guess
(chorus)
