

Indigo Girls, Losin Touch

"Love By You" is a Joan Armatrading song (I don't remember what album it's from) that Emily used to do occasionally, around spring 1988.

Love By You.

Anybody looking on, they can see you're not so good
People in the know, they can see I miss you
In the night with no one to hear me, I'm afraid and I cry
Seasons change, but there's nothing changes my mind
I've been loving you too long, and I can't seem to stop
You are my lifeline, you make me happy
I said that, had to say it, baby
Who on earth ever held me like you?
I'd like to see someone try!
Love by you, and no other loving will do.
In your time, baby, come back to me please
Don't leave this girl lost in space
You're the only one who could guide me out of this maze.
