

Infusion, Legacy

Aquaman knows what to do days seem shorter than they are finished counting all the stars feel the gears wind down again another paycheck to cash in may the lord of flesh and bone leave you some to call your own as we slowly feel our way through another shapeless day up the hill to sow some seed nostalgia's warmth is all we need past disappointments turn to steam we're superheroes, in our dreams throw the radio up high watch it drown out half the sky synaesthesia coloured blue

the secrets that we keep send our children fast asleep keep your head lights nice and low it's a subtle tempting show through the windsweep we can see a cinematic legacy leaving cities paved with gold to pilot frigates through our souls
