

Interference, Looking For Someone

I was looking for someone
Thought it might be you
And I was hoping for hope, my love
Thought you'd pull me on through

These roads keep on changing
Broken, twisting and signs on every mile
I seriously can't remember the last time I smiled
You are the one, my only one
Bringing ease to my sorrow

Well I was looking for someone
Thought it might be you
And I was hoping for hope, my love
Thought you'd pull me on through

I was frightened they would see this man cry
Inside a rainy town
I was looking at the sunlight
When the night came tumbling down
I wandered through the darkening streets
Until I found you here
There was brightness in your face
As you dried all of my tears

Well I was looking for someone
Thought it might be you
And I was hoping for hope, my love
Thought you'd pull me on through

Darling take my two hands
We will run through cracking dawn
I seriously can't remember
Where or what we've running from
All I know is you're the only steady thing
You're rocking road and worn
Please please stay beside me

Well I was looking for someone
Thought it might be you
And I was hoping for hope, my love
Thought you'd pull me on through
