

Interpol, Mammoth

Spare me the suspense
Spare me the suspense
I've got the currency, but I'm heaven sent

So spare me the suspense
Just spare me the suspense

Hey lady, wait
Oh I so hope you try
You're late
Baby know it's your time

Below that, you said bye
So call in the kid night
Alone, you can't make amends
Now I won't let you sit by
So call in the kids now
We should dance like two fucking twins

Just spare me the suspense

There are seven ancient pawn shops along the road
And the seven aching daddies you may want to know

Ooooh right on

Hey lady rain
Oh baby I can't deny
I got a taste, a taste
A taste and it's time

But I won't let you sit by
So call in the ???
Alone you can't make amends
Now I won't let you sit by
But so call in the ???
Enough with this fucking incense

Just spare me the suspense

There are seven ancient pawn shops along the road
Oh I know seven aging daddies you may want to know
When you've played your heart out
It paid eternal route

Ooooh right on

Wait, baby froze in the night
Lay, there's a hole in the sky
No haste, no lesson, no lie
Got a taste that I can't deny

And you wait 'til you know that it's time
You wait til you know that it's time
You wait 'til you know that it's time
You wait til you know that it's time

You say that you said black lies, do you know?
You say that you said black lies
