Interpol, Rain-Sun

So far

Hanging by a memory

No stars

To give me one wish

So lost in the dark

Feels like I'm caving in from the outside

All right

All wrong

See you again

So long

Nothing matters anymore at all

Nothing matters anymore

Life's not meant to be disposable

Lost. Found. Dead.

Ready and willing

Can't stop the bleeding

Life's not meant to be expendable

Rain. Sun. Gone.

Can't fight the feeling

So low

Overwhelming

Clinging to a tragedy

So clear

Hear weeping voices

Tears fall in the dark

Feels like I'm carving in from the outside

So lost. So gone. So wrong.

Life's not meant to be disposable

Lost. Found. Dead.

Ready and willing

Can't stop the bleeding

Life's not meant to be expendable

Rain. Sun. Gone.

Can't fight the feeling

It's never ending

Never goes away

But you did

It's never ending

Never goes away

But you did...

Why

The body's just a vehicle to hold

Until we find another space

Find another place

To start this over

The enemy

The action I can't condone

Do you suffer with me

Can I give you my loss

To feel

To hold close

Can I give you my pain

To feel

To be eaten alive by

Conscience

Suffer

Fucking suffer

Suffer like me

Life's not meant to be disposable

Lost. Found. Dead.

Ready and willing

Can't stop the bleeding Life's not meant to be expendable Rain. Sun. Gone. Left robbed unwilling Can't fight the feeling
