

Intestine Baalism, The Avenger Full Of Vengeance drifting on the ocean of darkness the heart is freezing the negative resentment flows in many deaths pass through accepted every pain the thought goes in, it never stops i have the only mission exceeding every phenomenon new ego is being made up i sleep covered with black wings until the time to fly comes black flame of vengeance swinging gently falling into the deep darkness something comes into my view sewn eyelids with the eyeballs taken out feel the fear of losing light a stick penetrates into the peeled and exposed muscle the ultimate pain destroys the brain a flatiron is put on the skin and it smolders smell the skin burning the joints are broken off and the bones are crashed the deep crash seduces you to a nightmare god, you betrayed me! a forceless hypocrite pray and cry, but you don't come down just look down from the high place on fainting away, i saw him sneering at me you are not qualified to mention the salvage a bystander it is a guardian angel that came down responding to my cry a great emissary of the king i am going to fly with a sword in my hand swearing vengeance on you for the next thousand years
