

INXS, Move On

Shake shake shake it
There's a monkey on my back
Been there much too long
Every time I kick it off
Another one comes along
Used to be in another world
Used to be alone
It's so hard to be yourself
When you feel like something's wrong
There are no words that could explain
You gotta move on
The strongest love in vain
There are no words that could explain
Ohh, you gotta move on
The strongest love in vain
She said, "I had enough of your lies,
not gonna wait for anyone."
The beginnning of the end
Don't you know that's all wrong
When you say nothing changes
You never say it won't take long
Used to be in another world
Used to be alone
It's so hard to be yourself
When you feel like something's wrong
Move on!
There are no words that could explain
You gotta move on
The strongest love in vain
There are no words that could explain
Ohh, you gotta move on
The strongest love in vain
There are no words that could explain
You gotta move on
The strongest love in vain
There are no words that could explain
Ohh, you gotta move on
The strongest love in vain
Move it!
Move on!
There's a question in my head
Been there all night long
Well I toss and turn inside my head
But I won't let it tear me down
Used to be in another world
Used to be alone
There are no words that could explain
Ohhh, you gotta move on
You gotta move on
Ohh, you gotta move on
Had enough?
Gotta move on
The strongest love in vain

Gotta move on
There are no words that could explain
The strongest love in vain
There are no words that could explain
