

Iona, Wave After Wave

Wave after wave rolls on
And the water falls
And the line is drawn
Wave after wave rolls in
And the line is gone
Where my feet have been
Hills that I know are there
Hidden from my view by the misty air
Light shining through the grey
Turns the water deep shades
Of lilac blue

Music in every sound
Light beyond each cloud
Hope in every dream
Songs like a healing breeze
Every breath inhale
And the goodness feel

I witness the power
Great mystery telling
In every moment
With every swelling wave
I feel the depth of your love
And devotion
My heart like the bird
That dives into this ocean blue

Lanes that have brought me here
Framed in season flowers
Lined in summer green
Music in every sound
Light beyond each cloud
Hope in every dream
Songs like a healing breeze
Every breath inhale
And the goodness feel
Rise from the bird above
From the flower below
In a song of love
