

Iron Savior, Battering Ram

[Music and Lyrics by Sielck]

Riding on a tidal wave of energy and sound crashing through the barrier the sonic bang will pound and as the wind is blowing in the mighty storm is setting in rise - and lift me up to where the thunder rolls static in the air charging everywhere

ready to ignite
to take a thunderride
we are hunting the eye of the storm by a power deep within it we are drawn taking a ride on the storm let it push you to the limits to bang like a battering ram muscles all contorted as the blood begins to boil taken by titanic force brought to native soil and as the wind begins to howl the storm is taking on control rise - and lift you up to where the thunder rules

with the wind in the rear onto the stratosphere the engine did ignite

[solo by Piet]

bang like a battering ram to bang like a battering ram unleashing the force of the storm
