

J Church, A letter to a friend

I want you to know as you lie in that bed, That I miss you more than any word that I've said, And it