

Jaci Velasquez, Reason To Believe

there's something more to this the stories i have heard of senseless apathy and cases of defeat the course that we are on is treacherous and long sometimes is so unreal but i know what to feel chorus:

we are in need of something real to prove that life is something, not just nothing everybody wants to see everyone is here in need of the reason to believe, the reason to believe we all want to rise above , yeah we're all in search of love and the reason to believe, the reason to believe we're living in an age of faith and disbelief and curiosity of how we can be free the state that we are in we question everything but i know right, cause i can see the light

the reason to believe
yeah yeah
