

Jaci Velasquez, Tonight

Sometimes I feel the rain
Fall on the twilight of the day
Watch the world fade away
Through all the stains of time
In the far corner of my mind
All the dreams I left behind
You'll find
But tonight, I'm gonna live in your world
Where the stars come out and find you beautiful
Yeah tonight, I wanna live in your world
Where the stars come out and call you beautiful
Once I felt it all
The fear and freedom of the fall
Empty rooms and barren walls
And now the cold remains
From all the fallout of the day
Let it all fade away
I pray
That tonight, I'm gonna live in your world
Where the stars come out and find you beautiful
Yeah tonight, I wanna live in Your world
Where the stars come out and call you beautiful
Beautiful
Won't you come out
Won't you come out tonight
Tonight, I'm gonna live in your world
Where the stars come out and find you beautiful
Yeah tonight, I wanna live in your world
Where the stars come out and call you beautiful
Beautiful
Beautiful