

Jaci Velasquez, You're My God

A new day was beginning
And all the birds were singing
The sun was shining up in the sky
Sometimes the world around me
Is so awesome it astounds me
It leaves me feeling mystified
Oh I just can't believe
All the beauty I see
It takes my breath away
Sometimes I've gotta say

CHORUS

You're my God
What You've created
So many miracles in every day
You're my God
It's so amazing
It's so incredible I've gotta say
You're my God
I can't even imagine
How He made it happen
To see the silver moon from afar
It's almost unbelievable
It's truly inconceivable
To think of all the billions of stars
When I'm watching a rose
How it naturally grows
Just takes my breath away
There's just one thing to say

Oh all the gifts You've given me
Oh what You do's a mystery, just to be,
You got me falling to my knees
Oh I just can't believe
