

Jack Morgan, Little Mouse

I remember the night scratching at my door furry, small and white I shook you by the paw

'cause I like you, my friend I respect you, my friend I'll encourage you, my friend through and through

Hey now little mouse
I hope we understand one another
hey now little mouse
show me what to do (little mouse)

Hey now little mouse
something's moving there in the back room
hey now little mouse
show me what to do
show them what to do

And as the night rode on we shared a hearty meal and talked of many things of scimitars and shields

I'll protect you, my friend I'll defend you, my friend I will fight for you, my friend till I die

Hey now little mouse
I hope we understand one another
hey now little mouse
show me what to do (little mouse)

Hey now little mouse
hey now little mouse
show me what to do

Can't you see it was meant to be a mouse and a man in a tumble down mansion

Exploring dusty rooms while singing ancient tunes Of comradeship, and chivalry you might just catch a glimpse of me and you and you and you and you

(guitar solo)

Hey now little mouse
hey now little mouse

Hey now little mouse

Hey now little mouse

Hey now little mouse
don't be scared of the cat in the parlor

It's enough for me and you
