

Jackie Greene, Never Satisfied

Dont just stand there in the doorway cause I hate to see you cry and dont try to ignore me just smile and wave your hand goodbye to you Ill send a dozen roses from every town that I been in and as long as leaves aint falling youll know the shape that I been in on the grey side of the mountain you can hear my train roll by baby I can be forgiven, but Im never satisfied

chase the rain out from your heart dear cause I know you will survive if Im not living on the edge dear then I might not be alive and in the winter of December turn your good side on the chill and in the winter please remember I loved you then and I love you still out my window leaves are falling and my train is passing by

baby I can be forgiven,
