

Jade Valerie, Piece Of Love

This piece of love
This piece of love
It's what's left of you

You are my stolen moment
My love across the oceans
A million whispers that only I can hear

You're a month a day
A home that's far away
My deepest secret
My deepest fear

You're a silent prayer
I never knew i had
A name that's in my head that only I can say

You're brown eyes turning green in the sun
You're where I end and where I begun

This piece of love
This piece of love
It's what's left of you

This piece of love
This piece of love
Will guide me through

This piece of love
This piece of love
Is all I have of you

This piece of love
This piece of love
Will guide me through

Tracing the outlines of a face I can't forget
Inhaling the fumes of guilt of a lifetime of regret
And it's heavy and it's silent
But my battle rages on ooooh

aaaah, aaaah

Im holding on to the thought of you

This piece of love
This piece of love
It's what's left of You

This piece of love
It's all I have, It's what I am
To guide me through
