

Jade Valerie, The Last

Take your love and your big expectations
Take your time but I don't need your explanations Take your words, take the couch, and your records too Take your guilt and the guitar I gave you

I'm cleaning house, cleaning up, need my piece of mind
I'm cashing out, just fed up can't sleep at night
The game is called let's finally say what we always knew No looking back cause I'm over you

You 're not the last man left or the last of my disasters
You 're not my last mistake or the first to make me cry
So the last word's yours, I'm moving on to ever-after but you're the last time I'll ever compromise

It's 3 a.m. and once again I'm losing it I'm at the end and on the mend but feeling stupid You live and learn gotta find out who you are but it still burns to be tossed back in the dark So thanks for making me a little bit stronger why does always being so damn dumb make us smarter
The clock is ticking things are changing it's a new moon and I'll move on cause I always do

or the last of my disasters
You're not my last mistake
or the first to make me cry
So the last word is yours,
I'm moving on to ever after
but you're the last time I'll ever compromise

We may have said forever and a day but there are some promises you break Nothings lasts, what can I say
It was meant to be this way

So goodbye I hope your skies are blue I'll go and take a piece of you Nothings lasts, what can I say?
It was meant to be this way

or the last of my disasters
or the first to make me cry
So the last word is yours,
I'm moving on to ever after
but you're the last time I'll ever compromise

or the last of my disasters
or the first to make me cry
So the last word is yours,
I'm moving on to ever after
but you're the last time I'll ever compromise

Nothing lasts
Nothing lasts
Nothing lasts
