Jadis, A Life I All You Need

When you're leaving - a life is all you need When you're giving - the gift denies the greed When you're smiling - it hides what lies below When you're crying - the tears that never show

Let your good side shine We're not here forever Let your good side shine

When you're living (a life is all you need) a life is all you need When you're giving (a life is all you need) the gift denies the greed

Let your good side shine We're not here forever Let your good side shine