

Jadon Lavik, This Day

This day two lives become one
This day a new journey has begun
Our hearts full of lasting love
Brought together by the hand above

To share a life that draws us closer
To the one that we live for

And I will give you my heart
And all of who I am
And I will give more than vows
And words could ever say
Yes Ill give you my all on this day
On this day

On the cross his love was shown
And this love will build our home
Standing now in front of you
We profess a love we know is true

To share a life that draws us closer
To the one that we live for

And I will give you my heart
And all of who I am
And I will give more than vows
And words could ever say
Yes Ill give you my all on this day
And Ill give you my all on this day

And I will give you my heart
And all of who I am
And I will give more than vows
And words could ever say
Yes Ill give you my all (on this day)

And I will give you my heart
And all of who I am
And I will give more than vows
And words could ever say
Yes Ill give you my all on this day
And Ill give you my all on this day

On this day, on this day
