Jag Panzer, Power Surge

[Written by Broderick & Emp; Conklin]

Hearts racing, blood boils Fist raising overlords Corruption our cry We're metal till we die

Power - In our hearts Surging - In our veins Power - There's no stopping this force

Full throttle we soar Fist raising overlords All hells in our eyes We're metal till we die

Up from the depths dark children arise Only to claim this earth as their prize Ancient ones have spoken so The dark ones arises from below

A birthright to the beastly one This earth and all its fallen sons Dark children await the timely hour In which to claim this earth with fire And then devour

Hells fire red glow Fist raising overlords We're burning with might We're metal till we die

Up from the depths dark children arise Only to claim this earth as their prize Dark children await the timely hour In which to claim this earth with fire And then devour
