

Jag Panzer, Ready To Strike

[lyrics by Harry Conklin]

Fires blazing electricity racing boiling my veins Strength without ending the message we're sending is no pain no gain

Arm in arm and one mind together
We're ready to strike!

No time for forgiveness or empty tomorrow
We live without shame
The world is so thirsty for pleasure and torment
They're one in the same

Arm in arm and one mind together
We're ready to strike!

Now is time like none in history
We must become brave
Make our mark forever there to stay
Now we pave the way

Some things we are changing and some rearranging
We've brought down the walls
Forging tomorrow through history's sorrow
We're setting new laws

Arm in arm and one mind together
We're ready to strike at the world
[Repeat]
