

Jahcoozi, Gameboy

Gameboy

It's a shame boy, shame boy,

You should get out see the real world school boy

You should get out play with real toys, make noise, make some real choice, more rice, less pies

Gameboy

It's a shame boy, shame boy,

You should get out see the real world school boy,

You should get out play with real toys, make noise, make some real choice, more rice, less pies.

9.99 a month for Sky, wish your kids brain goodbye

you provide him with computer games not company no you never have time, time of any quality, to keep him away from the monotonous

u raise him to be a recluse unready for society or is society gonna be full of gameboy who just like he he moves his body from the fridge and back in front of the telly, his belly of jelly and his computer game reality versus reality

you can mould them, like a piece of plastocine yeah they're malleable, it aint just all in the genes one step wrong they're in the wrong screen like freakin a high school shoot out, do you know what I mean?

So I warn you

Of the first world's greed

And the kids are gonna be obese nouveau riche, third world elites

Fat kids in front the T.V.