

Jahcoustix, Somebody

How many sins shall be forgiven?
How many sins shall be done?
How many years keep on falling
Until we know where we're coming from

I know already from today that I will loose my time to make the best of it, because I love to live don
and my mission is to sing out loud
Never ever wanna be just anybody
Always wanna be who I am
Always wanna be who I am

When ya standing in your shadow, was never ever my own view.
Never have enough time to think about it in times I find myself dreaming

I know already from today that I will loose my time to make the best of it, because I love to live don
and my mission is to sing out loud
Never ever wanna be just anybody
Always wanna be who I am
Always wanna be who I am
Always wanna be who I am

Wanna be somebody
