

James Arthur, My Favourite Pill

She's such a loner
They always tell her to smile
A catatonia, she comes alive in the night
Then she turns into a butterfly

Low serotonin
Got a matchbox ready to spark
The only motive is to cash out, get in the car
Keep driving like a shooting star

Said it's a burn-it-down-leave-no-evidence state of mind
But I think she might be heaven-sent
Danger signs

Oh no, I did it again
I fell for the thrill of it
Oh, said you're pulling me in
You're my favourite pill
And we're never gonna sleep tonight
We're never gonna sleep tonight

She's such a gamble, the rush of rolling the dice
Too much to handle, too lush to ever think twice
So I don't ever think twice

She'll take your spirit, have you strung out, weak at knees
She know no limits, get the guns out if you wanna leave
She's all I'll ever need, yeah

Said it's a burn-it-down-leave-no-evidence state of mind
But I think she might be heaven-sent
Danger signs

Oh no, I did it again
I fell for the thrill of it
Oh, said you're pulling me in
You're my favourite pill
And we're never gonna sleep tonight
We're never gonna sleep tonight
We're never gonna sleep tonight
We're never gonna sleep tonight

We're never gonna sleep tonight
You're my favourite pill, you're my favourite pill, baby
Said never gonna sleep tonight
You're my favourite pill, you're my favourite pill
Never gonna sleep tonight
We're never gonna sleep tonight
