

James Hype, Drums (feat. Kim Petras)

The less you give to me
The less you give to me
The less you give to me the more I want it

The less you give to me the more I want it
You push me back until I'm two steps forward
But I can see the signs, recognise where we're goin
So the less you give to me the more I want it

You know
I used to dream about this...
I never thought it would end up this way
(The less you give to me the more I want)

HEY!

(The less you give to me the more I want it)

(I never thought it would end up this way)

The less you give to me the more I want it
You push me back until I'm two steps forward
But I can see the signs, recognise where we're goin
So the less you give to me the more I (more I)

The less you give to me the more I want it
You push me back until I'm two steps forward
But I can see the signs, recognise where we're goin
So the less you give to me the more I want it

You know
I used to dream about this...
