

James Iha, Be Strong Now

Little darling belle with such a fragile shell
In the powerful way that love seems to make her all regret it now
And if she'd only say what's wrong- she can't go on
You've got to be strong now
And if I come and hold you now
You'll be safe and sound
Little lonely face that no one ever sees
You see the thing she believes is life is bittersweet if she'd Open up to me, and it's the only thing she dreams,
You gotta believe
You've got to be strong now
And if I come and hold you now
You've got to be strong now
If I hold you now
If I hold you now
If I hold you now
Ooh god if I could change a thing tonight we won't
Be lonely, ooh god if I could change a thing,
Why does it have to be this way?
You've got to be strong now
And if I come and hold you now
You've got to be strong now
If I hold you now
If I hold you now
