

James Iha, Jealousy

Hey now you never wanna be alone you never Wanna be apart From me on your own Hey now if we runaway and hide and you tell me theres A hurt if you confide You've been lost for so many years all your heartache I all comes clear Your little jealousy, your little jealousy, jealousy over me Hey now throw your arms around me and you tell me Theres no reason to believe Hey now, now if I reassure you I can tell yo word Love is a falling star Love could cure a heart You've been lost for so many years, all your worries, they disappear Your little jealousy, your little jealousy, jealousy over me There is a falling star Love could cure a heart You've been lost for so many years, all your worries , they disappear Your little jealousy, your little jealousy, jealousy There is a falling star love could cure a heart You've been lost for so many years and every time yo heart Pulls at my strings Your little jealousy, your little jealousy, jealousy over me