

Jamie Lidell, Game For Fools

the first moment you hesitate better ask yourself why don't you wait until it's too late until something inside has died when you're paralyzed no direction at all found yourself way up high now there's only space to fall when you're losing even when you know the rules must be a game for fools cuz the first moment you hesitate

and something inside has died yeah it's easy down the line to make a map of your lies but you can't keep on keepin' on keepin' the truth well disguised acting like it was alright when it was all wrong and you feel you've wasted so much time forever trying to make up your mind now it's clear you shoulda just moved on simply packed your bags and gone

you can kiss those plans goodbye
or something inside might die if you're losing when you know yeah you know all the rules must be playing a game for fools congratulations yeah you're winning the game for fools
