

Jana Kirschner, Finally

I built a great big home
And it fell down
I had a perfect plan
Until it went wrong, completely wrong
All the dreams and schemes
And the big ideas I wanted to come true
They fell down
They went wrong
Left me broken on the ground

I can hear my angels
Callin down to me
Telling me how it could be
With you underneath the sky

Finally I found my home
I found my key
Life just flows easily
With you underneath the sky

I can hear my angels
Callin down to me
Telling me how it could be
With you underneath the sky

Now we can walk together
Walk a million miles
Or we can just lay down and wait
Wait until the down
Wait until the down
