

Jann Arden, I Only Wanted Sex

I Only Wanted Sex

cry baby, cry baby, cry baby, cry baby, cry the hardest part of goodbye the hardest part of all i say those words to you now and i watch you crawl back to me where is your dignity oh where is your dignity i make you promises and i break them all apart im lying like a sidewalk a typical loves me, loves me not
i never really loved you
i never loved you back
i never even liked you

cry baby, cry baby, cry baby, cry baby
the hardest part of goodbye is moving all your stuff hey whats the name of that one guy i sure could use his pick up truck i surely could use his pick up truck
i only wanted
i only wanted sex
