

Jay-Jay Johanson, The Girl I Love Is Gone

The girl I love is gone
And I will never find a new
But if one pass me by
I'll still be wondering why
I could not be the one for you

The girl I love is gone
And solitary fills my home
It grieves me so to see
You walking out on me
And leave me standing all alone

Well, it might be foolish of me
There will be other girls that I will meet
But still I'm neither young you see
But that's the guarantee

The girl I love is gone
And things will never be the same
The emptiness inside grows stronger every night
And where are you to ease my pain

For good, for good, for good
